WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson believes farmers should have a voice—but not the complete or final say—on what kind of farm programs the federal government should provide.

He made this point at a news conference late yesterday in criticizing what he called congressional delays in acting on new farm legislation.

Benson objected to proposals being considered by the House Agriculture Committee that growers of wheat, cotton, rice and some other crops be allowed to decide—albeit indirectly—among several alternative programs for their crops.

"I believe it is dangerous to give support to a program just because the people directly interested in it are for it," he said.

Such farmer decisions, he said, might be against the public interest and not in the long time interest of agriculture itself. The responsibility for determining farm programs, he said, rests with Congress which must take into consideration views of farmers and others.

The secretary also criticized the steps being taken by the House committee to the various farm legislative proposals together in one bill. This "unification" was under taken, he said, to use noncontroversial proposals to help carry controversial ones through Congress.

Each farm proposal, he said, should stand on its own feet.

Benson said that in tying the agricultural trade development program to other actions, Congress

The tornadoes cut a 40-mile-wide path through Eastern Minnesota, jumped the Mississippi River into Wisconsin leaving in their wake at least 29 dead and an estimated 150 injured.

Boys Play Hard and It Cost Their Lives

BARBERTON, Ohio (AP)—Boys concentrate hard on their play. It's a habit that cost Jimmy Hazuka, 10, and his brother, Ronald, 8, their lives.

The brothers and Ted Mann, 9, were playing on the Erie Railroad trestle late Thursday.

They were looking down at the ties when engineer John L. Sonntag, 65, of Marion saw them about 25 car lengths ahead and hit the horn and airbrakes on his west-bound freight. He and the crew estimated the train was moving about 50 miles an hour.

Ted, who was closest to the end of the trestle, just managed to run to safety. The Hazuka boys had been a few steps ahead of him and couldn't retreat in time. High steel barriers prevented the boys from jumping to the clear, east-bound track or off the bridge which was just high enough to provide clearance for the Barberton Belt Line tracks to pass beneath.

In scared and hurried words, Ted recalled the moments of horror: "We were playing a game along the tracks to see who could stay on a truck the longest. I fell off once, Jimmy fell off twice, Ronald didn't fall at all.

"We walked along the trestle and then came down to the creek underneath. We threw rocks in the water. Then we climbed all the way back up.

"We started walking across the trestle. I heard Ronald yell, 'There is a train.' We were walking toward the train.

"I saw its light. I turned around and ran.

"If Ronald hadn't yelled, I would have got hit, too. I didn't hear a bell or whistle or anything."

Arab League Fails to Solve Dispute

BENGASI, Libya (AP)—The Arab League announced today its failure to solve the angry dispute between Lebanon and the United Arab Republic after Lebanon rejected a compromise.

A resolution turned down by the Lebanese would have sent a fact-finding mission to Lebanon to study charges that President Nasr's U.A.R. was behind attempts to overthrow pro-Western President Camille Chamoun.

Businessmen Favor a Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—A number of leading businessmen have given qualified backing to tax cutting as an anti-recession measure.

But even as their views were made public Thursday, the House voted to continue present tax rates on corporate income and certain items such as automobiles, cigarettes, whisky, beer and wine.

Although many House members would like to cut taxes this election year, they went along with the decision of their leaders and the Eisenhower administration against any reduction at this session.

The main reason: prospective big budget deficits.

The Senate is expected to follow the same course, although efforts probably will be made there to gain tax relief for the auto, automobile and rail industries.

The business leaders, responding to a questionnaire from the Senate Finance Committee, were in favor of tax reduction.

Most of the 14 men polled by the committee favored action in employing government action to bring about an economic upturn.

There were expressions of concern that such action might spur inflation.

In a separate study, the staff of the Senate Economic Committee said that, since its last analysis in February, "economic activity has continued to decline and there are as yet few signs of an early upturn."

100 Workers Go Out, Plymouth Closes Plant

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. today shut down assembly operations at its Plymouth body and assembly plants in Detroit.

This was the first such action by any of the car makers during operations without labor contracts.

The company said 2,700 employees were sent home after 100 members of the United Auto Workers union walked off the job in the firm department of the Plymouth body plant.

The UAW, which has instructed all members to work as usual during a non-contract period, had no immediate comment.

Earlier, the UAW's president, Walter P. Reuther, had moved quickly to make sure incidents involving Chrysler and General Motors workers Thursday did not disrupt the uneasy truce in the auto industry contract negotiations.

Chrysler said two employees who served as union stewards refused to work at assigned jobs and provoked a walkout.

The shutdown came as the UAW president, Walter P. Reuther, sought to prevent incidents involving workers at General Motors and Chrysler Thursday from disrupting the uneasy truce in auto industry contract negotiations.

Senate Opens Battle For Tax Slashes

WASHINGTON (AP)—House passage of a bill to extend corporate income and excise tax rates opened the way today for a Senate floor battle over cuts in these and other levies.

Amendments were barred as the House voted Thursday to continue the taxes for another year at their wartime rates, thus avoiding a $2,000,000,000 drop in revenue.

The bill was passed by voice vote. Revenue measures must originate in the House. The Senate can not start a tax bill, but can amend one.

Little or no Senate change is expected, but the one considered most likely is repeal of wartime transportation taxes. They impose a 2 per cent levy on freight rates and a 10 per cent on passenger fares.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) said he would seek broad personal income and excise tax cuts as an amendment to the bill.

Other measures would lower the voting age from 21 to 18 years, provide for revocation of driver's licenses in cases of severe traffic violations, and make a driver's training course mandatory before issuance of driver's licenses.

Fewer People Out of Work Figures Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today an improved employment situation in May. There was a substantial rise among those employed and a decline in the number of idle workers.

A joint report by the Commerce and Labor Departments put May employment at 64,000,000, up 1,154,000 from April.

Unemployment declined by 216,000 to 4,004,000—lowest idle figure since January.

The job gain was attributed to seasonal expansion in agriculture and service employment plus a bigger than usual gain in construction. The report said a sharp pickup in outdoor work represented in part recovery from delay caused by especially bad weather earlier in the year.

The employment rise in May was much greater than the drop in unemployment primarily because most of those joining the farm labor force were housewives and students who had been outside the labor force in April.

Sonja Henie Again Takes to Skating

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — You'd think that Sonja Henie would want to hang up her skates forever.

Yet she's on the ice again. In fact, she has been up at 6 in the morning to skate on the rink at the Pan Pacific Auditorium for three hours.

"It was the only time I could get the ice," she explained. The auditorium was on a 24-hour schedule, with one ice show appearing there and two others rehearsing.

Why all this activity on Sonja's part? She's leaving for Europe to film a 90-minute TV spectacular that might be the start of a series.

Sonja plans to go to Brussels, where she has an ice show appearing at the World's Fair. She'll rehearse the musical numbers there, then transport the company to London to film them. Afterward, the story part of the spectacular will be shot around London.

"If the show is a success, we'll do others in various other big cities of the world," she said. "The films will be made in color, so there is the possibility of showing them in theaters, too."

When I marveled at her early-morning practice sessions, she replied that they're not unusual with her.

"I always take at least two months to get into shape for an appearance," she said. "I would not appear if I weren't in top condition. The public expects to see you at your best, and I won't disappoint them."

But wouldn't she like to say to heck with it and skip the rigorous routine?

"Sometimes it is hard to get back for the first day or so," she admitted. "But then I find that I enjoy it so that I am happy to return. I wouldn't do it if I didn't enjoy it."

Sonja indicated she will limit her future work to TV and occasional in-person appearances. "No more tours," she said. "It would be fun to play a couple of cities with a show, but it isn't practical. Costs have risen fantastically. When I first went on the road with a show, it cost $90,000. Now an ice show runs from $700,000 to $800,000."

Good Chance For Girls in Television

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

The sky's the limit for girls seeking careers in television—or any other business—if they observe two cardinal rules:

1. Never let men feel you are competing with them.

2. Always make the boss look good.

The sound authority for this advice is a blonde dynamo named Rose Tobin, who holds down one of the most important jobs in television. As executive director for one of New York's biggest production firms, she chooses the casts for many TV and Broadway shows.

"It's a man's world—and thank goodness it is," says the dynamo. "But there's plenty of opportunity in it for women, too. If they don't go around making noises like feminists and carrying a constant chip on the shoulder."

"I never try to make a man think I'm smarter than he is, and I always believe in making the man I work with look good."

In the Talent Associates firm of which Rose is an executive there are 16 girls employed and seven more currently. Rose is working on the TV production of "Member of the Wedding."

Tobin, thousands of college girls who will start this month, all of whom are looking for jobs in television. Rose has some more specific advice: "The way to get your foot in the door is to start as a secretary. That's the easiest way to get in. After that, you can work your way up."

Handicapped Youth Honor Graduate

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—A 21-year-old honors student from Washington, D. C., mounts the platform at Washington and Lee University today to deliver the valedictory.

For John Monk Larson it will be more than just the final bright touch on an outstanding college career. It will also be the high point in a 13-year battle against polio.

And, says Larson, had it not been for his handicap, he might not have done so well in college. Outside interests would have encroached on the time he devoted to studies, he says.

Larson was stricken in 1925. He lost the use of both arms but had some control of his right hand. His affliction did not stop him from graduating from St. Albans School in Washington with honors. At W&L, as a political science major, he received only one "B" in an otherwise all "A" report. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa scholastic fraternity in his junior year.

This summer Larson will be tutored in French and German and next year will attend the Yale University graduate school on a scholarship. He hopes to continue his work toward a Ph.D. and eventually teach.

Future Brighter for Camp Chaffee

WASHINGTON (AP)—House approval of an amendment to the defense appropriation bill made the future of Ft. Chaffee, Ark., considerably brighter, Rep. James W. Trimble (D-Ark.) said yesterday.

The house, by a 108-79 vote, tentatively accepted an amendment which would hold Army strength at 900,000 men rather than to allow it to drop to 870,000 as proposed by the administration.

The vote, however, is subject to a roll call today and might be overturned.

Trimble said that if Army strength is held at 900,000, he is virtually certain that Ft. Chaffee will be kept open. Prospects are not so bright if 80,000 men are cut out, he said.

Rep. Overton Brooks (D-La.) made similar statements about Ft. Polk, La.

His Goal Is Out of This World

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Pennsylvania hitchhiker with an "interplanetary" literary has arrived here on his way to Jupiter. In Florida, that is.

Devon Smith, 32-year-old auto assembly worker from Elwood, Pa., said he already has visited Star, Mercurry, Venus, and Sun, La.

"I want to be the first person to visit all these stars without leaving earth," Smith said. He spent two weeks poring over the U. S. postal guide and reference books to map out his route.

His last scheduled stop—Earth, Tex.

New Construction Shows Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that new construction activity last month totaled 1.1 billion dollars, a 10 per cent increase over April.

The commerce and labor departments said this preliminary estimate was in line with seasonal expectations.

For the first five months of this year the dollar volume of construction was estimated at 17.7 billion dollars, about the same as a year ago.

Private construction thus far in 1938 was about 1 per cent lower than a year ago. However, public construction jumped about 4 per cent during the same period, largely because of increased spending for highways and military housing.

Tigers, Already in Cellar, Lose Best Hitter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What more can happen to the Detroit Tigers? Now they may have lost Harvey Kuenn, their leading hitter, for a spell and they've plunked back into the American League cellar.

Kuenn's injury and the dip to eighth place came in the same instant Wednesday night. The onetime all-star shortstop who has switched successfully to center field this season suffered severe gashes near his right eye when he crashed into the wire fence in Baltimore on a futile try for a two-run homer by Gus Triandos that gave the Orioles a 6-4 victory.

Kuenn, 27, leading the injury-hobbled Tigers with a .341 batting average, underwent plastic surgery. His eye appeared to escape injury, but a doctor declined to say whether he would be able to play tonight.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, ended their scoreless nonsense and beat the New York Yankees 7-2. Second-place Kansas City, 7½ games behind the Yankees, defeated Washington 5-4, and Cleveland beat Boston 7-5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Milwaukee gained a one-game lead over San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 3-0 on Johnny Podres' three-hitter. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 and the Chicago Cubs swamped Philadelphia 11-5, with Ernie Banks hitting his 15th and 16th home runs, tops in the majors.

Southpaw Billy Pierce pitched a five-hitter against the Yankees and fanned six to wrest the strikeout lead from New York's Bob Turley, 55 to 53. Pierce also doubled in a two-run third against Loser Tom Sturdivant (1-3) that ended a string of 32 scoreless innings for the White Sox, who had not had a hit in the last nine.

Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle homered, the seventh for each, for the Yankees while Don Mueller's two-run pinch single cracked a 2-2 tie in the seventh.

Mike Baxes had four singles in four trips and drove in the last two runs for the A's at Washington. Jack Urban won his fifth, with relief help, while winless Al Cicotte lost his third.

The Indians ended their losing string at four, overhauling a 3-0 Boston lead and then counting four in the 10th on Billy Harrell's two-run homer, three singles, a wild pitch and an error. Hoyt Wilhelm won his second in relief, although giving up a two-run homer to Dick Gernert in the 10th. Dave Sisler (4-2) lost it in relief.

2 Games Are Slated for Tonight

Last night the CBC edged out a 6-4 victory over the Midwest team and Coleman was defeated 13 to 3 by the Lions in Little League play.

In the only softball league game, Hope Star edged Moore Bros. 2 to 0.

Broyles Gets Fish in Derby at Narrows

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Frank Broyles caught his first Arkansas bass yesterday.

The red-headed University of Arkansas head football coach is not much of a fisherman, but he wants to learn. So he, along with head scout George Cole, entered the Narrows Lake Fishing Derby.

Broyles' 2-pound bass didn't win a prize, but he was proud of it. "After all," he said, "I've only been fishing six times before in my life."

Broyles and Cole were here to address a Rotaract fan meeting. The Derby had its first family of prizewinners yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ward of Prescott both scored in the crappie division. Ward landed a 1-pound, 10-ounce fish and Mrs. Ward caught a 1-pound, 11-ounce beauty.

Other winners: Mrs. division: Frank Mosely of Meigs for black bass; Frank Dyer of Dyer for white bass; and Bill Dyer of Dyer for bluegill.

HE'S IN TROUBLE—With his open-mouthed look of dismay, this rock cod might have been listening as New England congressmen urged the House Merchant Marine Committee to approve a five-year aid program to save the U.S. groundfishing industry. A rock cod, you see, is a groundfish. He and others of his type hang around the bottom of the ocean till a smart fisherman gets him. The legislation would provide groundfishermen federal grants-in-aid, low cost loans and incentive payments. Annual cost of the program was estimated at 43 million dollars.

Musial, Mays Leading Batters in the National Standings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's a bit early to start talking about batting champs, but junk the calendar and take a look at that battle between Stan Musial and Willie Mays in the National League. It's a 426-plus pip.

Stan The Man, at 37 the "Old Guard" who has won four of his seven hitting titles in the last 8 seasons, is a slumping .426. And Willie, 10 years Musial's junior, has picked up 17 points in three days for a .424 average.

Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia, the next in line, is almost 79 points behind, at .355.

Mays was 4-for-5 Thursday as the San Francisco Giants salvaged the finale of a three-game set with Milwaukee with a 5-4 victory in 12 innings. It brought them within .010 percentage points of the first-place Braves.

Musial was 6-for-4 against Pittsburgh, but the St. Louis Cardinals swept the three-game set with a 4-3 decision. They leap-frogged the Pirates for third place.

In the other NL games, Cincinnati smacked Los Angeles 8-4 and Philadelphia finally stopped the Chicago Cubs 7-6.

In the American League, the New York Yankees split with the Chicago White Sox, winning 12-5 and losing 3-2. Kansas City beat Washington 2-0 on Woody Held's homer in a 13-inning duel between Ralph Terry of the A's and Calisto Pascual. Detroit defeated Baltimore 6-3 and Boston beat Cleveland 5-3.

The Giants won on Jim Flinn's double and a single by rookie Orlando Cepeda (who was 4-for-6) off losing reliever Gene Conley, now 0-4. Mays had opened the 12th with his fourth single, but was nailed at the plate by Hank Aaron's peg as he tried to score on Flinn's hit to center.

The Cards scored two unearned runs in the third and batted it with two in the fourth as Gene Green hit an RBI double and scored on Curt Flood's single. Bob Friend lost his fourth. Wilmer Mizell won his third.

Once-beaten Bob Purkey won his seventh and hit his second major league homer for the Reds, who had 13 hits. Don Hoak homered and Frank Robinson had four hits. Carl Erskine lost his third.

Harry Anderson's three-run double and Stan Lopatin's follow-up sixth homer gave the Philadelphia Phillies a clinching seventh against losing reliever Don Elston (6-3). Ray Semproch (5-4) won it in relief.

Yankees Split Twin Bill With the White Sox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ralph Terry was a long time shaking his slump but when he finally put it away he won big pitching and seven-hit, 13-inning shutout.

The Kansas City right-hander who had lost five straight won his third 20 Thursday night at Washington as Woody Held's two-run homer scrapped a duel with Calisto Pascual. It was the first victory since April 26 for Terry.

The league-leading New York Yankees split a double-header with Chicago. The White Sox won the second game 3-2 after losing 12-5.

Boston defeated Cleveland 5-3, and Detroit defeated Baltimore 6-3.

In the National League, San Francisco beat Milwaukee 5-4 in 12 innings and climbed within .010 percentage points of the first-place Braves. St. Louis took third with a 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh. Cincinnati rallied Los Angeles 6-4 and Philadelphia beat the Chicago Cubs 7-6.

Terry, 22, poured it on, walking but three and fanning seven. He gave up a lead-off triple to Pascual in the 10th, then walked a pair intentionally to load the bases and got slugger Roy Sievers to hit into a line-drive double play.

That put Terry over the hump. He didn't allow another hit.

The White Sox won as Sherin Lollar's first-inning homer off loser Bobby Shantz (4-2) and ninth-inning single off Sal Maglie drove in all their runs. Ray Moore (2-1) had a fourth shut out for eight innings. Don Larsen (4-0) won his eighth in a row since last Aug. 5, and drove in four runs, but could not lead a 10-3 lead in the opener.

Ryne Duran, the Yankees' new-found Rookie of the Year candidate, made his ninth save with 2-2-3 innings of two-hit shutout relief. Early Wynn was the loser. Mickey Mantle hit his eighth homer, fourth in four days.

Ray Boone's eighth major league grand-slam homer bagged it in the seventh for the Tigers as Hank Aguirre won his second with a two-hit shutout in 8 1-3 relief innings. Billy O'Dell lost his seventh.

Gene Stephens slid home with the winning run on Jackie Jensen's fly ball in a two-run Red Sox eighth that broke a 3-3 tie at Boston. Jensen drove in three runs, hitting his 11th homer with a man on, and Dick Egnert cracked his 10th homer for the Sox. Dick Brown hit a three-run homer for the Indians. Mike Porcino won his third in relief. Hoyt Wilhelm lost his second.

Odds Favor Akins to Take Martinez

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A new world welterweight boxing champion will be crowned tonight when Virgil Akins, a stiff-punching home town boy, meets clever Vince Martinez of Palerone, N. J., in the 15-round final match of an elimination tournament.

Carmen Basilio, who vacated the title last September when he entered the middleweight ranks, will watch the fight. He picks Martinez.

Akins, a 30-year-old slugger who has come into his own in recent months after years of erratic performance, is the 2-1 favorite in the home town.

It will be a healthy payday for both fighters. Each gets $15,000 from TV and an additional $15,000 guarantee of 20 per cent of the purse.

Akins and Martinez, 20, are the survivors of a six-man elimination tournament set last year. Akins bypassed the journey for a time and won the Massachusetts version of the world title by knocking out ex-champ Tony DeMarco in a rematch. Virgil eliminated Isaac Legari by a sixth-round knockout in New York March 21. Martinez ousted Gil Turner in January and drew a bye into the finals with Akins.

Martinez's 6'6" record for 45 bouts is more impressive than Akins' 47-11, especially since Martinez never has been knocked out and Akins has been stopped twice. However, Akins scored two knockouts over DeMarco, who beat Martinez, and flattened Legari in his last three status.

Akins will wear red and broadcast at 9 p. m. EST.

Rising Continues In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Opponents of Lebanon's President Camille Chamoun hurled bombs and burned an empty bus in Beirut today. Sporadic shooting broke out in Tripoli and Baalbek, but casualties were reported light. The government braced for a possible outbreak of widespread rioting as the Arab League meeting going on in Baghdad, Libya, considers Lebanon's complaint against the United Arab Republic.

Baker Named to College Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Roy L. Baker Jr. of Harrison was appointed to the board of trustees of Arkansas Polytechnic College at Russellville yesterday. Gov. Orval Faubus telephoned his office from his mountain vacation retreat to make the appointment. Baker will complete the term of George S. Neal of Russellville who died recently. The term expires Jan. 14, 1960.

Mock Tornado Hits Malvern

MALVERN, Ark. (P)—A mock tornado yesterday bore down on Malvern, where a real twister ripped off roofs and wrecked one house last year. But instead of running for cover, the practice alert called for residents to pour out the streets to watch the "tornado"—a light airplane. Other practice alerts are planned at Searcy and other points along the Texas-Illinois Transmission Co. system. The company provided the plane for Malvern's alert. The Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the exercise, called it "a smashing success."

It Really Pays To Grow Trees Nowadays

By Edwin E. Waddell
District Forester, U.S.

Today, more than ever before, it pays to grow trees! The profit motive now gives greater incentive to owners of timber tracts and woodlots to grow, protect and harvest trees as a crop.

Within the past decade, American forestry has been undergoing a transition from the old economy into a new, more stable one. The old economy was one of forest liquidation. As population increased, the necessity for cleared land grew. The abundance of trees made wood excessively cheap and encouraged extravagance. Throughout most of the nation's history, wood-dependent industries have drawn on virgin forests, a stock-pile of raw material prepared and waiting for them. That economy now is coming to a close.

Timberland ownership is passing into a new phase—the economy of tree growing—tree farming. Virgin forest have been removed from more than 90 percent of the commercial forest area. The bulk of future timber production must come from new forests. The nation's timber growth has climbed steadily since 1900 as static old-growth forests were removed and management of second-growth forests improved.

As long as standing timber was available at 50c to $1.00 per thousand board feet, it was more economical for a sawmill to pick up and move than to grow its timber. But today, the value of timber in the United States has risen to the point where it now pays, in most areas, to grow trees as a crop.

Emergence into the new forest economy has brought unprecedented progress in protection and overall management of timberlands, in utilization of forests and forest products and in the technique and equipment used in harvesting and processing. It has done much toward solving forest reproduction, reseedling and planting problems.

Progress of the new economy has also brought far-reaching technological developments in utilization of wood in many new forms. It has brought into practical use many species heretofore considered worthless.

Talkathon May Prove The Point

By HOWARD CRISWELL JR.

PAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—A marathon talkathon here has brought on a mounting list of women ready to prove there's nothing more long winded than a talkative woman.

The object is to see who can keep it up the longest. Sorta silly, but there's always an audience.

The first two contestants proved themselves champions.

Contestant No. 3 is well into what she hopes will break the old mark and behind her are four more women, Ernie Eye, Fayetteville television personality, will challenge the eventual winner.

Contestant No. 3 is Mrs. Arthur Capps, 38, who started in at 7:54 p.m. Wednesday expounding on her experiences on the farm.

She's aiming for a record of 28 hours, 44 minutes and 14 seconds set by contestant No. 2, Mrs. J. D. McCauley, a 49-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Lois Grant, 27, Fayetteville secretary, started things off Monday by talking 27 1/2 hours.

"I can still talk, but I felt like it was time to quit, Mrs. McCauley said. "I tried it because my son came home and said, 'Mother, here's the time for you to get something for all that jabbering you do.'"

The contest goes on in an appliance store which has offered $1,500 in prizes. The proceedings are broadcast periodically over WFLB here.

Mrs. Capps talked through Wednesday night on household hints, canning, courtship, home demonstration clubs, the United Nations and dairy farming. Her husband is a milkman.

Oil & Gas Requests Granted by Group

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Requests by two firms were granted by the Arkansas Oil and Gas Commission at a special meeting here yesterday.

The Vickers Oil Co. requested exception to drilling unit provisions in the Snow Hill field in Ouachita County. The McAllister Fuel Co. asked for permission for unitization and integration of two tracts in the Village field in Columbia County.

Confederacy Children Close Two-Day Meet

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—About 50 members of the Children of the Confederacy closed a 2-day convention here yesterday with installation of officers.

Novell Plowman of Little Rock became president and Carol Coker of Little Rock, Kay Beasley of Texarkana and Martin Connerly of El Dorado were named vice presidents.

"AQUABATIC" SUB—The Skipjack, the Navy's newest nuclear submarine, promises to introduce new tactics into the art of undersea fighting. The 250-foot Skipjack, shaped like a shark, will be the fastest undersea craft ever built. An experimental sub, the Albacore, is the hull prototype for the Skipjack. The Albacore holds every sub speed and maneuverability record in the world. Sketched above by NEA artist John Lane, the Skipjack is shown making an aircraft-type pass at an "enemy" sub. The sub's driver (inset) will be called a "pilot." He will use a "joy stick" for controls, and be able to direct his sub in "aquabatic" maneuvers like a fighter pilot. Performance figures on the Skipjack are secret, but it is believed capable of doing 35 miles per hour submerged. Pitted against the conventional Russian sub of today the Skipjack would be like a jet fighter attacking a slow-moving cargo plane.

CHAPTER 23

When we reached the hotel, I told Louis to come up with me. Up in the room I gave him his $50, turned on the radio and ordered some breakfast from room service.

"Luis," I said in the middle of this, "how many banks are there in Puerto Torcido?"

"Two," he said. "The Torcido National Bank and the Bank of the Americas, Why?"

"I like banks," I said. "They have money in them. Where do the officials of the Mexican Republic keep their money?"

"You make the joke," he said. "The Torcido National Bank is owned by the Benefactor. Where would you keep your money if you worked for him?"

"In my pocket," I said. "Luis you have a big family. Does one member of the family just happen to work for the Torcido National Bank?"

"You are an evil man, Don Milo," he said. "You would not only corrupt me, you would corrupt my entire family."

My mother's aunt has a granddaughter who works in the bookkeeping department of the Torcido Bank.

"I don't want much. Five weeks ago a man named Jaime Moreno vanished in New York City in the United States. You know of this?"

"I think I have heard of it," he said sarcastically.

"All I want," I said slowly, "is to know what deposits were made since that time by Carriseron Perrota and Torcido. I will pay your mother's aunt's granddaughter $100. I presume that you will collect a certain commission for arranging the matter."

He stared at me and got to his feet. "All right, I will see about it."

I went to sleep and didn't wake up until there was a knock on the door. It was Luis. I opened the door and let him in.

Luis nodded in answer to my look. "All three made deposits, Don Milo. Torcido deposited more than 400,000 pesos. That was put in his personal account. Carriseron put 20,000 pesos in the bank and Perrota put in 30,000 in American dollars."

"When?"

The second day after Moreno disappeared in the United States," he said.

I whistled softly. I went over to my pants and got a hundred dollars and handed it to him. "I will add another hundred to it," I said. "If you can get me a photograph of the Perrota account showing that deposit."

"Is there to be no end?" he asked. "Each time you swallow something it only makes you hungrier."

I grinned at him. "Tell me, do you have still another relative, one perhaps with a different last name and more distantly related who might like $100?"

"To do what?"

"You know the manuscript for which we have been looking?"

think we will find it tomorrow morning."

"Que pasa?"

"I have the manuscript," I explained. "All written by Christopher Columbus himself. Now I need some place to find it. So we need a relative who might have a few old things lying around."

He shrugged. "There is my mother's aunt. Her name is Ena. She has never thrown away anything. Will it make any difference that she submitted a list of her old things to you in the very beginning?"

I grinned at him. "You know I wondered if some of those people who rushed to answer the ads weren't relatives of yours. No, I won't make any difference, Luis. We will find the manuscript at Aunt Emilia's then tomorrow morning. You'd better tell her. Now, do you know of any sort of small building out of the city, but not too far, which is empty and can be rented? It should be some place where there isn't too much traffic and not too near anyone's house."

"Why?" he asked.

"I've always wanted a little home away from home," I told him.

"To store the manuscript perhaps?" Luis asked sarcastically. "There is such a shack just north of the city. It has not been used for a long time."

"How big?"

"Six by eight feet."

"Can it be locked?"

"Yes, with the padlock."

"Which relative owns it?"

asked.

"A friend."

"You mean we're running out of relatives?" I said. "You disappoint me."

"He will want $10 a month."

"Which means," I said with a grin, "that he'll rent it for about $5 a month. I'll give him $30. The rest is for keeping quiet. And be sure that you give him enough so that he will keep quiet."

"Don Milo," he said in wounded tone, "you think I would steal from my friends?"

"Only if they weren't watching you," I said. "How are your connections with drugists, Luis?"

"You want to buy medicine?"

"Did you ever hear of penicillin sodium?"

He shook his head.

"Well, I want a hypodermic needle and enough to keep a man unconscious for 48 hours. Tell the drugist not to forget the double-distilled water in which to dissolve it. I got another $100 from my pocket. We seem to have established a price for everything. Here is $100 for the drugist. I imagine you will find a way to make a profit on it."

Arkansas Girl Tells of Fatal Shooting

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—A 19-year-old former Russellville, Ark., girl yesterday blamed a lover quarrel that started several weeks ago in Arkansas for the fatal shooting of her boy friend.

Sheriff's offices said Betty Johnson told them she shot Harold Kenneth Horn, 23, three times with a .25 caliber revolver and then fired a shot into her own chest.

The shooting took place Sunday night in Miss Johnson's car at a drive-in restaurant in nearby Lamont.

Miss Johnson was booked for suspicion of murder and hospitalized for treatment of a superficial wound. She was arraigned before Municipal Judge Doyle Miller who set a preliminary hearing for June 18.

Horn also was a former Russellville resident.

Shreveport Church Bars Integration

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—One of Shreveport's largest Methodist churches has taken action to bar integration of its membership.

The board of the Mangum Memorial Methodist Church revealed yesterday it had adopted a resolution against integration and that if Negroes present themselves for membership in the 1,500-member church, they will be courteously refused.

The resolution came shortly after the Louisiana Methodist Conference adopted one opposing legislation which would close public schools threatened with integration.

Elmer L. Berry, building contractor and a leader in the Mangum Church, said he was afraid the conference stand would be interpreted as representing the whole Methodist membership. Berry said the official Methodist stand as expressed by the Southern Regional Conference last year is that integration is a local option matter.

Beaver Dam Fund Gets Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—An appropriation of $750,000 for the proposed Beaver Dam in Northwest Arkansas has been tentatively approved by a House Appropriations Subcommittee, Rep. James W. Trimble (D-Ark) said yesterday.

The action, if approved by the full committee, "probably means a start on construction of Beaver Dam," Trimble added.

President Eisenhower had recommended that Congress appropriate $250,000 to complete planning for the dam but he further recommended that no new projects be started in the year beginning July 1.

Trimble had asked the committee for one million dollars with additional money to be used to start preliminary construction work on the proposed $6 million dollar dam on the White River in Carroll County.

NLR Armory Funds Available Soon

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—National Guard officials were optimistic today that some $800,000 in federal funds would be released for an armory at North Little Rock as a result of a compromise with the state Highway Department.

The National Guard Bureau in Washington temporarily held up the funds because part of the armory site was in the proposed right-of-way for the third Arkansas River bridge and expressway.

Col. Hobart W. Copeland, state military department maintenance officer, said the Highway Department had agreed to change the right-of-way.

Copeland said he had until June 30 to revise papers and work out details in order to get the federal funds.

MAIL TO BURN—That polibelled stove is where most of its would like to put our bills. In this case, however, it is part of a unique mailbox erected by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Archer of Brunswick, Ohio. As if it weren't distinctive enough by itself, it is painted a bright aluminum. That's Mrs. Archer collecting the day's mail from the departmentalized mailbox.

Suggests Congressmen Hasten to Name the Dandelion as the Official Flower of the U. S.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If America is to wear a national flower in its buttonhole, why not make it the dandelion?

Congress is periodically petitioned to name an official U.S. flower, but so far has ducked a vote. This issue could cause a lot of statesmanlike heads to roll—like petals at the first frost.

Garden lovers are a passionate folk. Knock their favorite flower, and it's worse than kicking their dog around. The angry sap rises in them. The wise politician realizes that picking a national flower could easily lead to a floral war between the states.

Right now there are two lobbies besieging Congress—some ladies from Atlanta, ardent advocates of the rose; a Midwest contingent which thinks the corn tassel should be the lasting symbol of our land.

The rose lovers, of course, are strictly traditionalists and are the kind of people who pick the New York Yankees every year to win the American League pennant.

Against them is the opinion of many that the rose is a garden snob and not democratic enough to represent America.

The corn tassel crowd claims that the corn tassel is as American as Pecanitas and, furthermore, is the bright harbinger of two of mankind's greatest pleasures—bacon and bourbon. One criticism against it: It is almost as symbolic of a single region, the Middle West, as cotton was of the Old South.

The big problem Congress faces in selecting a national flower is how to avoid showing regional favoritism.

If it names the official flower of one state, it by implication offends the other states.

The only remaining possible choice is the dandelion, the golden democrat of lawn and pasture. It is the true all-American flower, a rugged individualist that stands above class or creed. Or local partisanship.

It exports its seeds in clouds of white paratroopers that enrich with new beauty the backyards of the poor and the estates of the mighty. It is the stubborn friend of all. You can't even force this pal to leave you.

In good times you can admire its loveliness. In bad times, or good times, you can make wine from its blossoms, salad from its leaves, all kinds of medicines and a substitute coffee from its roots. It is beloved of children. You can hold its yellow glory under your best girl's chin and tell if she likes butter.

The easy way out for Congress is to vote the dandelion as the U.S. national flower—by acclamation.

Trade Stamp Firm Is Incorporated

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state's office yesterday for a new trading stamp company, the High Value Stamp Co., Inc., of Little Rock.

The articles listed principal stockholders as Merle Thompson and Fred E. Leggett of Little Rock and W. S. Scott Goodman of North Little Rock.

Determination...

It's a powerful thing. It can slay dragons, land new industries—or win big prizes. For Jonesboro and Forrest City, determination meant new industry, a greatly improved economy in general—and first prizes in the first annual MidSouth Industrial Awards. In competition covering seven states, that's quite a dragon to get the best of.
